ACTIVITIES

Visit: They will do a guided, 45-minute tour through the museum, appropriate according to the age of the kids attending the party: the "Cocoa Spark" can guide the littlest ones explaining the stories and legends, and they can learn chocolate secrets by following a trail of clues through the venue...

Chocolate Artists: The children, accompanied by the baker, are directed to the museum's workshop and undergo a lesson where they practice 2 basic techniques working with chocolate: using molds (where they make a chocolate figure) and the chocolate fountain (where they make a drawing out of melted chocolate). 45min.

Snack Time: The snack consists of cake (with or without an image on the cake) or melted chocolate with lady fingers. 30 min.

This breakfast/snack is done in a classroom separate from the kids. The classroom will be accessible to you during the whole party. You can follow the assistants there once the kids get started. In the case that the party starts at breakfast, we will wait until parents of younger children have taken their photos, so that everyone can go together to the assigned room.

MUSEUM RULES

- Parents cannot attend the activities of the party. Parents of the birthday boy/girl will only be allowed access during breakfast/snack-time. While you wait, the museum installations are at your disposal, in addition to the café-store, or the patio.
  - In terms of drinks, we only include water. All other additional products/services will be charged separately.
  - The snack menu should be notified ahead of time. If you find any photos of desserts, they should be sent to us a week ahead. In the case of there being a participant with intolerances or allergies, we should also be notified about 3-4 days before, to make sure we prepare something especially for them.
  - The Chocolate Museum closes their doors punctually at 19:00 (7:00p.m.), therefore we request that reserved activities have punctual schedules. Afterwards, attendees can be in the inner courtyard for as long as they like, until closing.
  - In the case of not meeting the minimum (15 children), the difference still must be paid.
- * 30% of the total amount of the birthday party must be paid by transfer and indicate the reservation number.
